To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my interest in a community health related position. In May of 2023, I will receive my Bachelor of Science degree from Clemson University: majoring in Language and International Health, minoring in Psychology. I am confident in my ability to use my skills from this degree to contribute to your team and make a meaningful impact on advancing reproductive justice, health, and rights in the United States.

Throughout my undergraduate career I have centered my coursework and extracurriculars around advocating for sexual and reproductive healthcare access for underserved communities. I had the opportunity to conduct a solo research study comparing sexual health and wellbeing outcomes for queer and heterosexual student populations: measurable health outcomes being sexual victimization and access to sexual and reproductive healthcare such as contraception. My research found significant health disparities for queer and gender nonconforming students, and I presented my findings with policy recommendations for creating a safer and more equitable campus for all Clemson students.

Through my extracurricular activities I have worked to make my campus an inclusive place where people of all sexual orientations and gender identities can have access to evidence-based information concerning their sexual health. As Vice President of Planned Parenthood Generation Action, I have organized several educational engagement events for the student body. Currently, I am organizing a Sexual Health Carnival, a festive event that will promote safe sex practices through games and activities, as well as offer accessible STI testing and contraceptives to the student body. Last semester, I organized the Reproductive Rights Rally, which raised over $600 for the Carolina Abortion Fund. Prior, I created and hosted Sexual Health Jeopardy, a fun approach to teaching about and discussing reproductive justice, the sociocultural history of sexual health, pleasure and intimacy, and consent.

I am excited about this opportunity to join this team and use my skills to contribute to the growth and success of this organizations' health outreach programs. Thank you for considering me for this position; I look forward to discussing my qualifications with you. I may be reached by telephone (843-906-3406) or email (annalipke17@gmail.com).

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Anna Lipke
